FROM THE CEO'S DESK TRANSITION

It is with gratitude to the Almighty Allah that I write my last column as Chief Executive Officer of ANAN after 4 years. Transitions are an inevitable part of life as new seasons must give birth to new dimensions.

During my tenure, I was privileged to work closely with three Presidents and I will like to thank them for the professional working relationship we enjoyed. I appreciate the Council Members and Past Presidents for their leadership and guidance.

To the Management and staff, I appreciate your commitment and diligence throughout the period, even when it was challenging, we surmounted obstacles together and remained resilient.

To Branch Chairmen and Branch Executives, you are the source of our strength in our delivery to members and other stakeholders. We commend your passion and commitment. Your courage, doggedness and steadfastness to aspire above and beyond is an inspiration.

I also want to express my deepest gratitude to our members both old and new for the trust and commitment to the Association and our programmes across the world for professional growth and development.

And to my successor, Dr. Kayode Olushola Fasua, I am confident in your ability to lead the Association to the next level.

I believe I leave an Association that is well-positioned to compete globally with contemporaries as a premium brand of choice and as leader in public sector Accounting in Africa. It has been a privilege to serve you all.
