ADDRESS BY THE CHAIRMAN, MCPD COMMITTEE AT THE OPENING CEREMONY OF THE 2ND SESSION OF 2025 MCPD IN BAYELSA STATE PROTOCOLS

Honourable Guests,
Distinguished Participants, Ladies and Gentlemen

It is with great pleasure and a sense of responsibility that I welcome you all to the opening ceremony of the 2nd session of the 2025 Mandatory Continuing Professional Development (MCPD) in Bayelsa State. This occasion marks yet another milestone in our collective efforts to strengthen professionalism and uphold excellence within the Accounting Profession.

Your presence here demonstrates commitment to the core values of continuous learning and development, which are critical to ensuring that we stay at the cutting edge of our profession. I also want to acknowledge the immense support from the host branch, committee members, facilitators, fellows and members of the Association for the roles played in ensuring the success of this event. My heartfelt gratitude to everyone presents today for making out time to attend this important event.

The MCPD is a key driver for personal and professional growth; enabling us to remain relevant, adaptable, and effective in an ever-evolving global landscape. In today's world, where technology, policy, and practice are changing rapidly, it is no longer enough to rely solely on past knowledge or experience. Continuous education is essential for innovations, and the MCPD is designed to empower us with the tools and knowledge to navigate these changes successfully.

Corporate value creation is at the heart of every successful business strategy, focusing on both financial and non-financial factors that contribute to long-term sustainability and stakeholder wealth. This seminar will explore the fundamental principles and practices of value creation in a corporate context, examining how businesses generate and sustain value through strategic decision-making, resource allocation, innovation, and effective governance. Participants will gain insights into how value is defined, measured, and enhanced in modern corporations. The seminar will cover a variety of value creation models, highlighting the importance of aligning corporate goals with stakeholder interests, including shareholders, employees, customers, and society at large. As members of the Association of National Accountants of Nigeria (ANAN), we bear the responsibility of upholding financial integrity and fostering sustainable development through ethical leadership and innovative financial management. The principles of Corporate Value Creation and Reporting align seamlessly with our profession's core values—ensuring that policies, projects, and financial decisions contribute meaningfully to societal well-being.

This MCPD provides an invaluable platform for us to engage in intellectual discourse, share insights, and refine our expertise. The knowledge and skills acquired here will empower us to champion reforms, embrace digital transformation, and enhance service delivery in both public and private sectors.

I urge every participant to actively engage in discussions, ask critical questions, and explore practical strategies that will enable us to integrate the principles of Corporate Value Reporting into our professional responsibilities. The impact of our collective efforts will be felt not only within our institutions but also across the broader spectrum of national development. Thank you for your attention and God bless!
